The statue represents the Biblical hero David, a favoured subject in the art of Florence.

Giotto's Campanile is a free-standing campanile that is part of the complex of buildings that make up Florence Cathedral on the Piazza del Duomo in Florence, Italy. Standing adjacent the Basilica of Santa Maria del Fiore and the Baptistery of St. John, the tower is one of the showpieces of the Florentine Gothic architecture with its design by Giotto, its rich sculptural decorations and the polychrome marble engravations. This slender structure stands on a square plan with a side of 14.80 meters. It attains a height of 84.7 meters sustained by four polygonal buttresses at the corners. Collection

Giovanni Boccaccio (1313–21 December 1375) was an Italian author and poet, a friend, student, and correspondent of Petrarch, an important Renaissance humanist and the author of a number of notable works. Boccaccio is particularly notable for his dialogue, which has been said that it surpassed in vernacular Italian that of virtually all of his contemporaries, since they were medieval writers and often followed formulaic models for character and plot.

AMERIGO VESPUCCI COLLECTION

Amerigo Vespucci Collection

Amerigo Vespucci (1454 – 1512) was an Italian explorer, navigator and cartographer. The Americas are generally believed to have derived their name from the latinized Latin version of his first name. Amerigo Vespucci was born and brought up by his uncle in the Republic of Florence.

A galleon was a large, multi-decked sailing ship used primarily by European states from the 16th to 18th centuries. Whether used for war or commerce, they were generally armed with the short-caliber types of cannons. The galleon was an ocean-going ship type which evolved from the carack in the second half of the sixteenth century.

FILIPPO BRUNELLESCHI COLLECTION

Filippo Brunelleschi Collection

Filippo Brunelleschi (1377 – April 15, 1446) was one of the foremost architects and engineers of the Italian Renaissance. All of his principal works are in Florence, Italy. As explained by Antonio Manetti, who knew Brunelleschi and who wrote his biography, Brunelleschi "was granted such honors as to be buried in the Basilica di Santa Maria del Fiore, and with a marble bust, which they say was carved from life, and placed there in perpetual memory with such a splendid epitaph."

The famous dome by Brunelleschi is the coverage of the cross of the Florence Cathedral in the largest masonry dome ever built (the largest diameter of the lower dome is 45 meters, the section: 24). His idea prevented the traditional method of construction with the help of scaffolds, which has aroused an array of assumptions about the construction technique used.

DANTE ALIGHIERI COLLECTION

Dante Alighieri Collection

Dante Alighieri (1265 – 1321), commonly known as Dante, was an Italian poet of the Middle Ages. He was born in Florence, he died and is buried in Ravenna. The name Dante is, according to Jacopo Alighieri, a hypocorism for Durante. In contemporary documents it is followed by the patronymic Alighieri or de' Alighieri; it was Boccaccio who popularized the form Alighieri. In Italy he is known as "The Supreme Poet" (Il Sommo Poeta) or just Il Poeta.

The Museum of the Casa di Dante is located in one of the oldest parts of the historic center of Florence, Via Santa Margherita. Dante himself wrote that he was born in the shadow of the Badia Fiorentina in the parish of St. Maria, although it is not clear exactly where the building is now houses the museum. The nearby church of Santa Margherita de' Casini is the place where the poet for the first time he met Beatrice Portinari.

ARNOLFO DI CAMBIO COLLECTION

Arnolfo di Cambio Collection

Arnolfo di Cambio (c. 1240 – 1300/1310?) was an Italian architect and sculptor. In 1294–1295 he worked in Florence, mainly as an architect. According to his biographer Giorgio Vasari, he was in charge of construction of the cathedral of the city, for which he provided the statues once decorating the lower part of the facade destroyed in 1589. The surviving statues are now in the Museum of the Cathedral.

The tomb for Cardinal de' Rossignoli created by Arnolfo di Cambio, a pupil of Niccolò Pisano and collaborator of Giovanni Ghiberti, for the Church of San Domenico in Orvieto in 1280.
